COMMUNITY GROUP

Community groups support and bring people together in a number of ways. Any community group can become wilder and support our mission to get more people on nature's side and bring nature back into recovery. In fact, we couldn't do it without you.

Who can join Team Wilder?

Nature is a part of all of our lives - we interact with it on a daily basis. It is all of our responsibilities and within our abilities to work together to take action against the ecological crisis. You don't even have to be a group focused on sustainability, climate change, or making space for nature to become a Wilder Community Group. We welcome groups from all sectors of society. Your group doesn't even need to be very well established to join - if you're just starting to set a group up, we'll give you extra support and advise you along the way. We need a multidisciplinary approach and thoughts and ideas from everyone to create a number of multi layered and sustainable solutions to tip the scales back into nature's favour.

Get more from Team Wilder...

It is up to you how much you interact with Team Wilder. We're here to support you as much as we can every step of the way - however, you remain responsible for all of your group's activities.

We highly recommend that you sign yourself or some of your members up as Wilder Community Leaders. We'll give you plenty of resources on community organising and wilding your spaces. Go to our website for more information: hiwwt.org.uk/become-wilder-champion.

Please encourage your members to subscribe to our Team Wilder e-newsletter and add Wilder@hiwwt.org.uk to your own mailing list so we can stay up to date with one another! You can also join us on Facebook: facebook.com/groups/TeamWilderHIWWT.
